

OBJETIVO:

O objetivo do curso é aprofundar o conhecimento dos alunos de pós-graduação sobre economias institucional, em sua interação com o conteúdo de tópicos em Economia Industrial, Microeconomia e História Econômica a partir das abordagens conhecidas como “Institucionalismo Histórico” e “Nova Economia das Instituições” desenvolvidas por Veblen, Commons, Coase, Alchian & Demsetz, Jensen & Meckling, Williamson, North, Hart e outros autores.

O curso é basicamente dividido em três partes, das quais as duas primeiras tratam do chamado Velho Institucionalista, de caráter histórico, e das novas versões institucionalistas basicamente a Nova Economia Institucional, incluindo a teoria dos Custos de Transação, a teoria do Agente-Principal e a Teoria de Contratos Incompletos, desenvolvida por Oliver Hart, prêmio Nobel de 2016. A última, traz a contribuição da Teoria Evolucionária para a Teoria dos Custos de Transação.
